DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Allen et al. (Allen) (US 6,549,299).

With regards to claims 1-26, Allen either explicitly or inherently discloses all of the claimed limitations as evidenced by the fact that Allen discloses a document printing and finishing system including a computer and a stand-alone finishing machine. The computer is used to print individual sheets that are to be assembled into a finished document by the finishing machine. In addition, the computer prompts its operator for finishing instructions, and then prints an instruction sheet setting forth such finishing instructions. In addition to being set forth in human-readable terms, the instructions are recorded in barcode form or some other format that is easily readable by a computer-based device. After the document sheets and instruction sheet have been printed, an operator submits them to the finishing machine. The finishing machine scans and decodes the instructions from the instruction sheet and automatically configures itself to finish the document in the manner prescribed by the instruction sheet.
